ANARCHISTS, all agree, have no place on American soil.

ROOSEVELT will continue the policy begun by President McKinley.

ROOSEVELT does not desire guards to protect him. He says he does not wish to establish that precedent.

PRESIDENT MCKINLEY died in the faith as his last words to his wife indicate, "God's will, not ours, be done."

PRESIDENT MCKINLEY will be buried at Canton, Ohio. Funeral services will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

treason is punishable by death. Anarchists are traitors, hence they certainly should receive their just punishment.

One clause of our preamble is "to promote the general welfare of the people." This the anarchists oppose, hence they must be exterminated.

The calamity howlers and imperialistic newspapers added their portion to the idea of anarchy, and had its bearing in the assassination of the president.

It is to be hoped that congress will take steps to put an end to anarchy. People of the mind of Emma Goldman should not be permitted on American soil. There is no harm to differ in opinions, but when these differences are vicious and murderous then they should not be given place in speech or paper. Such ideas as are advanced by the Emma Goldman followers are calculated to do no good.

The New York Evening Post, which is not a republican paper, remarks that anarchism has never been so ripe or so bold in this country as during the last five years, in which political demagogues and their newspaper organs have assailed the government as a financial oligarchy, and otherwise sought to discredit it among the people. It is a short step from the imperialistic howling of the St. Louis Republic and Altgeldism to Emma Goldman and Czolgosz.—Globe-Democrat.

Memorial services of President McKinley were held in many of the churches all over the country on last Sunday. In a special to the Globe-Democrat the following is said of Fredericktown:

"Memorial services were held at the Southern Methodist church in this city this morning. The services opened with the singing by the congregation, of 'Nearer, My God to Thee,' after which short addresses by N. B. Henry, president of Marion college; N. B. Watts, and Dr. F. R. Newberry, dwelling on the life and character of the deceased president, were made. The president's favorite hymn, 'Lead, Kindly Light,' was then sung by Mrs. A. C. Alexander, of M. C. I. The pastor, Rev. Z. T. McCana, made a short address, taking these points as a text: (1) Mr. McKinley as a son; (2) Mr. McKinley in his home; (3) Mr. McKinley as a Christian man."

MILLERSVILLE.

September 16.—Everybody is in mourning over the tragic death of our nation's chief executive. Is our boasted "land of the free and the home of the brave" progressing or retrograding? Think of it! Three murdered presidents in the last half-century of our boasted independence! It is surely time for us to put on the brakes and enquire where we are and whither we are drifting.

A light rain refreshed the growth of fall vegetation last Friday night.

Farmers are getting ready to sow wheat. Most of the land is broken and harrowing is now the order of business.

Mrs. Omie Miller went to St. Louis last week to buy stock for her millinery store.

U. N. Miller went to Greenville last Wednesday to look after a job that was offered him through a correspondent of that place.

J. C. Snider and wife left last Monday to visit their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Hendricks, of Memphis, Tenn.

Born, to Lee Caldwell and wife, on the 8th, a son.

Born, to T. J. Miller and wife, on the 10th, a daughter.

Miss Daisy Probst left last Tuesday to visit friends at Decatur, Ill.

J. B. Howard will commence work on his new residence one mile east of town next week.

Dale Miller will commence work on his new residence in the southern part of town in a few days.

I learn that a daughter arrived at the home of J. F. Caldwell and wife, of our town, this morning.

Immediately after the arrival of Lee Caldwell's new son, Lee, he left for Oklahoma to confirm some land claims which he had been instrumental in procuring. He returned last Saturday evening and reports success in his purpose.

Will Stevens, who moved to town about six months ago to run the engine for the Farmers' Milling company, returned to his farm a mile southeast of town last week, but he still holds his position as engineer. BARKES, RANDELS.

Dock Dew, while going for a doctor for Mrs. M. A. Lee, his horse got frightened and threw him, his head striking a railroad iron inflicting a severe wound.

Died, at his home near Randles, little Albert Hinch, son of James and Dora Hinch. He bore his afflictions with patience and passed away in great joy. "Blessed are the pure in spirit for they shall see God."

Rev. E. W. Gammon preached at the schoolhouse last Sunday night to a large and an attentive audience.

Miss Clara Madox was visiting Miss Ada Groseclose last Sunday.

It is really unnecessary to say more concerning these popular amusement manufacturers. Their shows are so universally admired that the simply announcement that they are soon to appear here is amply sufficient to test the seating capacity of their man-moth tents.

The high tension to which the nervous system is constantly subjected, has a depressing effect, and soon headache, back-ache, neuritis, rheumatism, sciatica, etc., develop in severe form. Such was the case of Mail Carrier S. F. Sweinhart, of Huntsville, Ala., he says: "An attack of pneumonia left me with muscular rheumatism, headache, and pains that seemed to be all over me.
